

2019 ASMR Queensland Health & Medical Research Awards

These prestigious Awards recognise excellence in all areas of health-related research performed in Queensland.

1. Postgraduate Student Researcher Award.

Eligibility: enrolled students or recent graduates no more than one year since degree conferral. Prize - winner $750

2. Early-Career Researcher Award.

Eligibility: more than twelve months but no more than five years (inclusive) of completing their higher degree. Prize - winner $1500

3. Mid-Career Researcher Award.

Eligibility: more than five years but no more than twelve years (inclusive) of completing a higher degree. Prize - winner $2000

4. Clinical Researcher Award.

Eligibility: a clinician or allied health professional within ten years (inclusive) of completing their highest degree/specialist qualification. Prize - winner $2000

Application Deadline: 13th May 2019 (midnight)

Please see the ASMR website for complete information on eligibility and application instructions: <https://asmr.org.au/asmr-mrw/queensland/>

Finalists for all award categories will be selected by a judging panel to give an oral presentation on Tuesday 28th May 2019 (from 8:00AM) at QIMR Berghofer Medical Research Institute (Level 6, Bancroft Centre, Brisbane, QLD).

Presentations to the finalists and winners will be made during the ASMR Medical Research Week® Gala Dinner on Friday 31st May 2019 (from 6:30PM) at the Rydges Hotel in Brisbane.

For enquiries please contact: Jay Gunawardana (ASMR Queensland Health & Medical Research Awards Subcommittee)

2019 ASMR Queensland Health & Medical Research Awards is proudly supported by the Queensland Government