Professor William (Bill) Brinkley, ASMR Medallist 2006

"Celebrating Health and Medical Research in Australia: A Renaissance for Discovery and Opportunity"

Professor William (Bill) Brinkley is Distinguished Service Professor, Department of Molecular & Cellular Biology, Baylor College of Medicine, Texas, USA.

A former President of The Federation of American Societies of Experimental Biology (FASEB), a 60,000 member federation that supports and promotes America's leadership in basic and clinical research, Brinkley feels that it is important for every scientist to become involved in establishing government science policy.

Professor Brinkley is touring Australia as the ASMR Medallist Lecturer.

His message is about the opportunities created by the recent increases in Australian Government funding for Health and Medical Research and what Australians should expect from the future of the health research endeavour.
